This report is the result of a full State Licensure survey conducted on August 29, 2013, at PPSP Surgical Locust Street Health Center. It was determined that the facility was not in compliance with the requirements of the Pennsylvania Department of Health's Rules and Regulations for Ambulatory Care Facilities, Annex A, Title 28, Part IV, Subparts A and F, Chapters 551-573, November 1999.
| S 033A | Continued from page 1 | S 033A | Based on feedback from surveyor during the August 29, 2013 survey, the surgical center manager reviewed Pennsylvania State law and PPSP protocols specific to mandatory reporting at center staff meeting on September 17, 2013. PPSP Chief Operating Officer and Manager of Center Quality with legal consultation will revise current protocol to include language on when to ascertain if the child had sexual intercourse with an individual who was four or more years older than the child. The revised protocol will be in place by January 15, 2014 and all health center staff will receive training on this protocol by February 15, 2014. Revised protocol and evidence of training will be available for review. Lack of documentation when reporting child sexual abuse as revealed in survey 8/29/13 was reviewed at the 9/17/13 center staff meeting. Detailed instructions on required documentation was reviewed. IF CONTINUATION SHEET Page 3 of 18
Based on a review of facility documents, policies, medical records, and interview with staff (EMP), it was determined that the facility failed to conform to all applicable State laws.

Ppsp Surgical Locust Street Health Center was not in compliance with the following State laws:

The Pennsylvania Crimes Code and the Child Protective Service Law

Sexual intercourse with a child less than 13 years of age is always a crime without regard to the age or relationship of the offender, and without regard to the "consent" of the child. See 18 Pa.C.S §§ 3121(c)(rape of a child); 3121(d)(rape of a child with serious bodily injury); 3123 (b)(involuntary deviate sexual intercourse with a child); 3123(c) (involuntary deviate sexual intercourse with a child with serious bodily injury). Under Pennsylvania law, a child less than 13 years of age is incapable of consent to sexual intercourse.
Sexual intercourse with a child less than 16 years of age is a crime if the offender is four or more years older than the child, and the child and offender are not married to each other. 18 Pa.C.S. §§ 3122.1 (statutory sexual assault); 3123(7)(involuntary deviate sexual intercourse). Under Pennsylvania law, an unmarried individual less than 16 years of age is incapable of consent to sexual intercourse with a person who is four or more years older.

Accordingly, under all circumstances, any child less than 13 years of age who is pregnant, or who is found to have a sexually-transmitted disease or condition, is a child "upon whom injuries have been inflicted in violation of [a] penal law of this Commonwealth." So is any child less than 16 years of age if the person who caused the pregnancy, or who caused the child to have a sexually-transmitted disease or condition, is four or more years older than the child and is not married to the child. Professional contact with a child less than 13 years of age who is pregnant, or who has a sexually-transmitted disease or condition, therefore triggers a duty, on the part of those health care providers identified in 18 Pa.C.S. § 5106 (a), to report under the Crimes Code in all circumstances. Contact with a child less than 16 years of age who is pregnant, or who has a sexually-transmitted disease or condition, triggers a duty to report under the Crimes Code if the person who caused the pregnancy, or who caused the child to have a sexually-transmitted disease or condition, is four or more years older than the child and is not married to the child. Failure to report as required by the Crimes Code is a summary offense punishable by fine and/or imprisonment.

In addition to the reporting obligations under the Crimes Code, the amendments the legislature has made to the CPSL have expanded the obligation to report suspected child abuse and now specify that [a] person who, in the course of employment, occupation or practice of a profession, comes into contact with children shall report or cause a report to be made ... when the person has reasonable cause to suspect, on the basis of medical, professional or other training and experience, that a child under the care, supervision, guidance or training of that person or of an agency, institution, organization or other entity with which that person is affiliated is victim of child abuse, including child abuse by a person who is not a perpetrator ...

This is not met as evidenced by:

1) Based on a review of facility policies and interview with staff (EMP), it was determined that the facility failed to develop a policy that met the reporting requirements for statutory sexual assault victims as defined in The Pennsylvania Crimes Code and the Child Protective Service Law

Findings include:

A request was made to EMP1 on August 29, 2013, for a facility policy related to external reporting to appropriate agencies as related to The Pennsylvania Crimes Code and the Child Protective Service Law. EMP1 provided "Pennsylvania Law and Child Abuse Reporting," updated December 2012, which revealed " ... Statutory sexual assault ("statutory rape") is sexual intercourse when one person is under the age of 16 and the other is 4 or more years older. It is a crime, however it is NOT a mandated reportable incident. ... "

An interview with EMP1 on August 29, 2013, at approximately 3:00 PM confirmed that the above facility policy is what the facility follows for reporting child abuse.

2) Based on a review of medical records and interview with staff (EMP), it was determined that the facility cared for unmarried pregnant children under the age of 16 and the facility failed to ascertain if the child had sexual intercourse with an individual who was four or more years older than the child for six of six medical records reviewed.

suspected child abuse ... Who does the reporting: Many of our reports are generated because a minor has replied "yes" when asked on the history form if he/she has ever been forced to have sex. Center assistants and clinicians are both responsible for following up when this question is answered with a "yes." As a Center Assistant, you should review the history and ask questions about the incident(s) of forced sex or other abuse. You should always communicate to the clinician when you have had this conversation. Each Center should have a system in place for deciding who will make the report to Childline. The person who will make the call needs to gather enough information from the patient to make the report meaningful. Center Managers may need to decide who will collect this information from the patient, given staffing levels and availability of CA's and clinicians.
