“Pro-Choice” Scottsdale OBGYN Isn’t Really For Choice

By Peggy on September 26, 2015 in blog

While we normally write biographies of politicians who are hooked on taking Planned Parenthood donations, we felt it necessary to discuss other community leaders who may be leading citizens astray.

According to some quick Google searches, Dr. Eric Reuss appears to be a popular and successful doctor in Scottsdale, Arizona. The list of procedures he is trained to perform is long and thorough.

But not complete.

On the side, Dr. Eric Reuss has been on the board of Planned Parenthood in Arizona:

During the previous legislative session in Arizona, SB1318 was passed and signed by Governor Doug Ducey. One of the provisions in this bill is to mandate abortion clinics share Abortion Pill Reversal information to their patients.

However, Dr. Eric Reuss, although on the board for an organization that touts itself as “Pro-Choice”, really doesn’t encourage choice for the general public. He wrote an Op-Ed for the Arizona Republic complaining about SB1318. Specifically, Dr. Reuss refers to the Abortion Pill Reversal as having no evidence-based data:

If ever there is an example of Legislative overreach, this would be it. There is absolutely no evidence-based data that the process can be reversed. If passed, our state government will force physicians to impart hearsay to their patients.

Okay then Dr. Reuss, explain the lack of evidence to the baby in this tweet:

We celebrate the 122nd baby born through abortion pill reversal today! Abortion Pill Reversal is possible!

How anyone can appear so caring and concerned about a woman’s and her baby’s health in one job, only to turn around and support ending the lives he otherwise helps to save? How does a well-educated doctor flip a switch? Does he tell his patients about his hobby? What does he really think about that life his patients are carrying?

Most likely, the pink money is too tempting to pass up. The Planned Parenthood cancer grows and has taken another physician down the wrong path. Watch carefully which school board and legislative candidates Dr. Reuss supports in future elections.
