Plaintiff's listed Objections to Defendant's Exhibits<sup>9</sup>

Exhibit No.	Objections
5, 6, 7	Documents are irrelevant and cumulative, Plaintiff will stipulate she paid for her own malpractice coverage.
19	The document is immaterial and irrelevant as it is dated 2-8-14, almost 3 years after the action of which the Plaintiff complains
20	Again, the document is dated approximately two years after the Plaintiff was discharged and is thus immaterial to this case.
21	Same objection as for 19 and 20 above
23	Plaintiff objects on the same basis as for 19, 20 and 21 above. The document is immaterial, because it was executed approximately 3 years after the termination of the Plaintiff.
26	Plaintiff objects to this document because it is irrelevant and immaterial to this action, and the document sets forth a matter of public health concern and it would be against public interest to permit a criticism about a matter of public health concerns to be used against the propounder of the statement.
27, 28, 29	These IRS documents relating to Plaintiff's tax filings are irrelevant and immaterial and their prejudice outweighs any probative value in this case.
45	Plaintiff objects because this document is dated 9-3-13,

<sup>9</sup> AWC hereby reproduces Plaintiff's objections to AWC's Trial Exhibits in toto and without any annotations.

	over two years after the Plaintiff was terminated from AWC. It is irrelevant to the present case
47	Plaintiff objects because the incident mentioned in in form apparently occurred in January of 2013 almost two years after Plaintiff's termination. It is too remote to be relevant to this matter.
48	Plaintiff objects on the grounds of materiality and relevance. The form recites an incident where Plaintiff hurt her shoulder in January 2013, long after she was terminated from the AWC, and there is no indication the incident had anything to do with her work.
49	Plaintiff objects because this form relates to the Plaintiff seeking medical attention because of a auto collision which occurred in February of 2013. Again it is irrelevant and immaterial to this case and too remote in time.
50	This document relates directly to the auto collision referenced in Exhibit 48 and is a follow up visit that occurred in May, 2013 and is irrelevant and immaterial to this case since Plaintiff was terminated in June of 2011
51	Plaintiff objects to this document on the same basis as previously. It reflects a follow up visit in May of 2013 and the injury happened as the result of a car wreck. It is irrelevant and immaterial to this action
52	Plaintiff objects to this document which reflects a doctor's visit for knee pain in September of 2013. It is irrelevant to the present case.
53	Plaintiff objects on same basis as for exhibit 52. The document reflects a visit in Setember of 2013

AWC reserves the right to use any document necessary for rebuttal or impeachment purposes. AWC also reserves the right to amend this trial exhibit list to include documents produced by Plaintiff after the filing of the parties' proposed Pretrial Order. Finally, AWC further reserves the right to supplement or amend this list of proposed exhibits no later than fourteen (14) days in advance of the date for which this case appears on the trial calendar.
