Kimberly Remski, MD

Class of 2017

Biosketch

I was born and raised in Plymouth, Michigan, which is a suburb of Detroit. I traveled a whole ten miles away for undergrad at the University of Michigan where I studied Brain, Behavior, and Cognitive Science...Go Blue! After working on research at the Children's Hospital in Detroit, I started medical school at Michigan State University. I fell in love with this program while on rotation at UIC last summer. I thought the program was extremely well rounded and the faculty and residents made me feel right at home. I just moved to Wicker Park with my boyfriend, who is also starting residency in Family Medicine. I ride my bike all over the city and enjoy exploring new festivals and restaurants! I also have a passion for cooking and baking, I love to feed people! Other hobbies include traveling the world, scrabble, yoga, rooting for Detroit sports, and eating cheese. I am so excited to start residency and I'm ready to face the challenge of being a Red Wings fan in Chicago!
