

---

CHOICE/LESS — Dr. Nicola Moore: If Not Me, Who?

Feb 21, 2017, 8:34am Jenn Stanley

---

0:00

The current Republican-controlled federal government has already made it clear that attacking reproductive rights features prominently on their agenda. But there's a less-discussed threat to reproductive health care in the United States: a lack of trained abortion providers.

Many states are so hostile to abortion that clinics can't find doctors willing to live and work in the area, so those clinics are forced to hire physicians who will travel regularly from other states to perform abortions. Dr. Nicola Moore is one of those doctors.

Journalism has an inherent role in promoting a healthy and just society. At Rewire.News, we have one, overarching purpose: to produce journalism in the public interest and in the service of democracy and justice. We are a non-profit and we don't accept advertising or corporate dollars - we rely on readers like you to keep us funded. Support Rewire.News today with as little as $1.

L
S
T
—

Support *Rewire.News

LATEST ON REWIRE.NEWS

NEWS ABORTION

Pro-Choice Advocates to Rhode Island's Anti-Choice Democrats: Follow Ireland's Lead

Jun 1, 3:31pm Auditi Guha

ANALYSIS IMMIGRATION

#WhereAreTheChildren Showed Progressives Didn't Learn Anything About Immigration From the Obama Administration

Jun 1, 8:57am Tina Vasquez

CULTURE & CONVERSATION MEDIA

I'm Reading 50 Books by Women of Color This Year— Here Are Some More of My Favorites

May 31, 4:25pm Victoria Law

© 2018 Rewire.News. All rights reserved.