Ms. Neuhaus, we are continuing the inquisition statement that you started a couple of weeks ago that we broke because we were going to retrieve some records. And so we were continuing that here today. First thing that we'll need to do is get you sworn as a witness again.

ANN KRISTIN NEUHAUS, called as a witness, was sworn and testified as follows:

MR. CAVANAUGH: Excuse me, Steve, may I make a short statement on the record. As you indicated on the record earlier I have been appointed as special counsel for adult patients, guardian ad litem for minor patients, pursuant to amendment protective order that the court entered on May 23, 2006.

One of my primary purposes is to manage the medical records and also to

After that is done they will be submitted to me and I will review it to make sure that all identifiers have been redacted and then I will take responsibility of delivering those exhibits to the court reporter. And I will when I do that of course copy you in writing that those exhibits have been delivered. MR, MAXWELL: That's fine. MR. FOCHT: Now, I understand that procedure. I am not -- it's only after I conferred with Mr. Cavanaugh that I discovered that apparently these files have already been subjected to physicians reasonable medical inquiry rules of Alpha Beta case. So otherwise I would object to doing anything other than having some physician determine in accordance with Alpha Beta that this isn't -- I've forgotten what the words were. That they adequately addressed the concerns raised by the patients. And it's not one of those matters that just is reasonable dispute as to medical protect the privacy of any patients.

And so it's on the record today through the questions and answers, I would just caution everyone to try to be sure to not use names or other identifiers.

I understand that you are going to use patient numbers for that and so we are going to — the goal here today is that the record will not be able to — that somebody reading the record would not be able to discover the identity of a particular patient because of information that is there.

Additionally any exhibits that maybe to this statement today that are medical records of patients of Doctor Neuhaus, it's my understanding that the agreement on how those will be handled is that they will be identified and then following the deposition Jack Focht who is counsel for Doctor Neuhaus will make

21. is counsel for Doctor Neuhaus will make
22. copies and see that Identifying
23. Information has been redacted pursuant
24. to guidelines set forth in my letter to
25. him December 18th, 2006.

judgment, but from what Mr. Cavanaugh tells me that's already been done with Mr. Tiller's records and if it's the same records I suppose you don't have to do it a second time you know.

MR. CAVANAUGH: Just to clarify, the physician review as of course as would pertain to Doctor Neuhaus would only be as to any records of hers that were contained in — I don't know whether Doctor Tiller's is Alpha Beta, but in Doctor Tiller's files.

MR. FOCHT: Yeah, I know. I don't either. I know what the case says and I assume I know who the people are from the case.

A. I'm sorry, I didn't understand a word of any of that.

MR. FOCHT: Well, you didn't need to. That was lawyer talk. The second thing is I am sure it's clear that she continues to testify under the grant of immunity.

immunity.

MR. MAXWELL: I am about to get

25 Into that.

Q. Yes.

A. There is no notation of that, but whenever there is any kind of indication that the person is actively suicidal or any of these assault situations, all of these, any time there is any type of post-traumatic stress disorder or acute stress disorder or any of those I always spend a very extended period of time with the caregiver or if the patient is alone with the patient discussing the need for follow up counseling.

Obviously due to the circumstances of them being generally out of State or in some circumstances indigent many times it's not actually possible to supervise that or to obtain permission from them to locate a counselor. It's not

Q. All right. This — this was in person that you saw this patient?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you on any of these cases where you said there was a major — you can put the files away. We are done with the files for now. On any of the cases where you found that these patients in what you said in writing that they were — suffer substantial and irreversible impairment of a major bodily function, did you — like major depressive disorder or single episode, acute stress disorder or anxiety disorder those are the three that we discussed today, correct?

A. Correct.

Q. Okay. And in any of those times did you make any other referrals or give them any follow up care or do any referrals to other physicians to treat those irreversible conditions that you said?

technically possible to do that within the format that I am in.

But I have on a number of occasions engaged in lengthy post care counseling with patients who I felt had no other resources than myself. But -- do not interrupt me, please.

I am here doing this act for purposes of being in compliance with this law. But once I am there my own priorities are always first and that is that I make sure that I do to the best of my ability evaluate that person's entire life situation and to the best of my ability offer the best guidance that I can, the best medical information that I have and the best medical judgment that I can use. Because ultimately -- can I be rude? I don't give a crap what Phil Kline thinks.

What I care about is the patient that . I am — whose trust is invested in me during that consultation period. So my first priority is to the patient. And my second priority is to make sure that
