

Original document found online; see middle of article for excerpt shown below.
<https://saynsumthn.wordpress.com/category/abortion-complication/abortion-coma/>

ILLEGAL? Hardly- Gosnell was licensed and approved by the state:

Gosnell opened his Women's Medical Society at 38th Street and Lancaster Avenue in 1979.

The Department of Health first granted approval for the Women's Medical Center to provide abortions at 3801 Lancaster Avenue on December 20, 1979. The approval followed an on-site review and was good for 12 months. The DOH "site review" at the time identified a certified obstetrician/gynecologist, Joni Magee, as the medical director, with Gosnell listed as a staff physician. The report noted that a registered nurse worked two days a week, four hours a day, and that lab work was sent out to an outside laboratory.