AQUADON E. UMOREN, MD FACOG FWACS EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dr. Aquadon Umoren brings a wealth of knowledge as a consultant in the energy industry after having retired from the practice of medicine in 2008. He is presently Chairman of BoDa Services Limited, an oil services company based in Port Harcourt, Rivers State, Nigeria. He occupies the position of Vice-Chairman, Wura Solar Company Limited, a company offering alternative energy solutions to the power starved sector of the Nigerian economy.

When he was engaged in active medical practice, Dr. Umoren managed a number of private practices both in the United States of America (USA) and in Nigeria. In Nigeria, he founded and managed a premier hospital called Women's Medical Center from 1985-1994. He participated in the formulation and implementation of health policies of the Nigerian Government while serving as the Health Commissioner in Akwa Ibom State of Nigeria from 1991-1992. He was also a director of Total Health Trust Limited, a pioneer medical insurance organization that canvassed for medical insurance coverage for Nigerians. In the USA, Dr. Umoren managed medical practices in Tuscaloosa, Alabama from 1994-2002 and from 2003 worked with Crown Medical in Murrieta, California before retiring from full-time obstetrics/gynecologic practice in 2008.

Dr. Umoren graduated from the prestigious high school, King's College Lagos in 1967. He finished his Advanced Level course at Federal School of Science, Lagos in 1969 before proceeding to the USA for his undergraduate studies at Loyola University in Chicago and medical school graduate studies at the University of Illinois also in Chicago from where he graduated in 1978. He specialized in Obstetrics/Gynecology at Martin Luther King Hospital/Drew School of Medicine in 1983. He was Board Certified in Obstetrics/Gynecology in 1988 and he is a Fellow of both the American College of Obstetrics & Gynecology and the West African College of Surgeons.

Dr. Umoren is happily married to his wife Cecilia and they are parents to grown children and one grandchild. He is an avid golfer who resides both in Nigeria and the USA.

Unfortunately Dr Don Umoren passed on on June 9th, 2016 and was buried in Lagos, Nigeria on August 5th, 2016. May his gentle soul rest in perfect peace.
