Meet Our Medical Director

Our Medical Director, Dr. M. Rose, is a Board-Certified Obstetrician and Gynecologist who is a former Associate Professor of Clinical Obstetrics and Gynecology at George Washington University. Dr. Rose has been performing abortion procedures since 1970 and was a founding member of the National Abortion Federation (NAF). Dr. Rose sat on the first Standards and Implementation Committee of NAF in 1976 and helped develop their first set of Standards. Dr. Rose has been featured [^] in several news publications, including being pictured on the cover of the Washington Post magazine for a positive article about abortion providers. Dr. Rose is deeply committed to making safe, professional, compassionate, non-judgmental pro-choice reproductive healthcare a reality for all women. Dr. Rose was involved in the struggle to make abortion legal in the United States and, shortly after Roe v. Wade in 1974, Dr. Rose partnered with the Concerned Clergy (a group of pro-choice ministers who were helping women to find safe abortions) to establish legal abortion clinics in College Park and Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Dr. Rose continues to be a member in good standing of the National Abortion Federation and the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists and he serves as Medical Director of several clinics around the United States. Dr. Rose is also involved in training and supervising other physicians and Nurse Practitioners and continues to practice and see patients on a regular basis.
