

Vanessa Cullins

Vice President for External Medical Affairs, Planned Parenthood Federation of America

Dr. Vanessa Cullins is vice president for external medical affairs at Planned Parenthood Federation of America (PPFA). She has extensive clinical and research experience in contraception and reproductive health. Prior to joining PPFA, she served as vice president and medical director of EngenderHealth, where she provided oversight and direction of technical teams responsible for providing technical support for reproductive health service delivery in over 25 countries. A graduate of Spelman College, Dr. Cullins received her MD and MPH degrees from the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine in addition to an MBA from the Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania.

---

The Promise of Affordable Health Care for Floridians

---