Everyone was extremely helpful, informative, and most importantly, friendly. They understand that it's not an easy decision and won't treat you like crap for choosing whatever you choose. I arrived super early to avoid any protestors but there weren't any. It's private property so there's no one around to try to guilt you into doing something different. You can make your decision with a clear head. The building is serene and everyone talks you through whatever questions or concerns you may have. The director, Starla, was extremely informative and helped calm all of my nerves. Dr. Allen was amazing. It was just an all around awesome experience. If you find yourself in tough situation, stuck and confused without direction, I would highly recommend A Woman's Choice.

Well. As I have intense panic attacks when It comes to these odd female yearly exams they were unable to assist me with any form of antianxiety, leaving me to seek out my neighbors help which I passed out from the medicine and became very ill.

I just recieved a phone call from the doctor Diana who, when informed that I did not feel comfortable with the procedure, VERY QUICKLY dismissed me from her practice. She said I was now discharged permanently and said she would never see me again. Some bedside manner. Never seen anything like it.

I just said "bye". What else is there after that. Way to show care for wellbeing of the patient.

This was my first time ever getting a procedure done. I was more than scared and I'm very glad that all the nurses were very kind and helpful. The whole place is very comfortable and even though I had a lot of anxiety throughout the waiting process, at least it was relaxing.

I was treated with a casual kindness and respect. I have nothing but positive things to say about Carolina Center for Women and will recommend it to any woman seeking their services.
