Fantastic. Learned some new things, she was very thorough, spent a lot of time with me. She also asked about not only negative issues (symptoms, side effects, pain, etc) but also positive things and I thought that was an awesome shift in intention.

Great!

REVIEWED ON MAR 02, 2018

I don't ever had a problem.

REVIEWED ON FEB 07, 2018

I like my doctor; will probably continue going to her. She is concerned about my health, and gives good advice.

REVIEWED ON FEB 01, 2018

Perfect. They're excellent - I am satisfied.

REVIEWED ON JAN 29, 2018

Dr. Sinnay was amazing. She listened to everything I had to say regarding my concerns and struggles, and treated me with nothing but respect. She made me feel comfortable in what is usually a traumatic and uncomfortable setting for me. She explained everything clearly and was very personable. I can't say enough how much I appreciate my experience with her.

REVIEWED ON JAN 13, 2018

Perfect balance of personal touch and professionalism. Love her. Would absolutely recommend.

REVIEWED ON JAN 11, 2018

Felt very comfortable talking to this particular doctor.

Consulting and Related Relationships

At The Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center, we support a faculty member's research and consulting in collaboration with medical device, research and/or drug companies because a faculty member's expertise can guide important advancements in the practice of medicine and improve patient care. In order to provide effective management of these relationships, the University requires annual disclosures from all faculty members with external interests related to their University responsibilities.

As of 03/26/2018, Dr. Sinay has reported relationships with the companies or entities listed below. If you have questions about the relationships listed below, please ask the faculty member. If you have questions about how these relationships are monitored by The Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center, please contact our Compliance Office at 614-293-7802.
