In Abortion Free New Mexico's latest undercover project that has taken viewers inside the notorious Southwestern Women's Options (SWO) late term abortion facility, the investigation has also uncovered that the University of New Mexico (UNM), a publicly funded institution, is willing to collude with late term abortionists to deliver dead babies at UNM Hospital once a deadly injection is administered by abortionists at SWO.

The price tag of a late term abortion at Southwestern Women's Options is a staggering $17,000, but in a SHOCKING revelation, SWO employee Susana Estorga, states that for \$5,000 they would be willing to offer the fetal injection ALONE and then send the woman away to deliver the baby 2-3 days later elsewhere.

The fetal injection administered by SWO abortionists kills the baby in the womb by slowly stopping their heart over 4-6 grueling hours.

If a woman opts to obtain the fetal injection at Southwestern Women’s Options, SWO has an expectation that other OB-GYN’s will oversee the completion of the labor and delivery of the stillborn child. However, most OB-GYN’s will not participate in abortions, especially at religious hospitals, like Presbyterian in Albuquerque, so SWO is apparently relying upon the University of New Mexico’s entrenched abortion agenda and utilizes an arrangement to ensure that “injection only” patients can labor and deliver their dead babies at UNM Hospital.

In an undercover phone call placed to the Women’s and Children’s Health Care Clinic at UNM Hospital, Tara Shaver with Abortion Free New Mexico also confirmed the fact that, Lily Bayat a UNM Fellow at the University of New Mexico Health Sciences Center would deliver the dead baby at UNM Hospital after Southwestern Women’s Options administered the lethal injection.

Lily Bayat holds positions at the University of New Mexico Health Sciences center in the Divisions of Family Planning and the Department of Obstetrics & Gynecology. In addition, Bayat receives an annual salary by the University New Mexico of $57,747 as a, “Visiting Instructor”.

“Abortion Free New Mexico has exposed just how deep the collusion is between the University of New Mexico and Southwestern Women’s Options to ensure that late term abortions continue up to the day of birth. Hospitals are meant to be places where the sick go for healing, but the abortion industry is utilizing them for their own sordid death agenda.”
Tara Shaver, Spokeswoman for Abortion Free New Mexico.

GLARING CONTRADICTIONS

The Albuquerque Journal published an article on December 20, 2015 titled, UNMHSC halts training at private abortion clinic in it the ABQ Journal reported that, “UNMHSC officials said last week that they will no longer send medical fellows or residents to Boyd’s clinic, which is located in Downtown Albuquerque.”

However, UNM’s website contradicts that report and still clearly states, as of publishing time of this article, October 31, 2017...

“Fellows are trained in abortion and contraception care, using evidence-based medical and surgical methods. Training occurs primarily at the UNM Center for Reproductive Health, the Albuquerque Planned Parenthood Surgical Center, and Southwestern Women’s Options (Dr. Curtis Boyd). Later second and third trimester abortions are performed at UNM Hospital and at SWO.”

Clinical Training

Fellows are trained in abortion and contraception care, using evidence-based medical and surgical methods. Training occurs primarily at the UNM Center for Reproductive Health, the Albuquerque Planned Parenthood Surgical Center, and Southwestern Women's Options (Dr. Curtis Boyd). Later second and third trimester abortions are performed at UNM Hospital and at SWO.

General obstetrics and gynecology clinical opportunities are available, including OR coverage in the main OR and minor procedures at Outpatient Surgery and Imaging Services (OSIS). Fellows take three OB primary call (overnight and/or weekend) shifts per month. Maintenance of general clinical practice allows for collection of cases for board certification. The UNM Fellow will become expert at the range of family planning and abortion care while maintaining and promoting generalist skills.

The UNM Center for Reproductive Health is a full-service family planning clinic (3 miles from the hospital) providing:

- Abortion care through 22 weeks
- Management of first trimester pregnancy complications

- Contraception, complex contraception
- Miscarriage management
- Hysteroscopic sterilization (Essure)
- In-office hysteroscopy, endometrial ablation
- STI management
- Full-scope obstetrics and gynecology services

After orientation and training, the UNM Fellow supervises residents and medical students at the UNM Center for Reproductive Health, and will perform uterine evacuations up to 22 weeks with participation of medical students and residents.

UNM Hospital

Medically complex and later gestational cases are performed on labor and delivery and in the main operating rooms at UNM.

Planned Parenthood Surgical Center, Albuquerque

Fellows manage first, and early second, trimester abortion care (through 17 weeks GA) at Albuquerque's Planned Parenthood Surgical Center.

Southwestern Women's Options

During the course of fellowship, UNM Family Planning fellows complete from one to three (2) week rotations at Dr. Curtis Boyd's Albuquerque clinic, Southwestern Women's Option, to train to competence in later abortions, with the focus on 24 week gestational age.

Despite these glaring contradictions that show a continued relationship between UNM and SWO, Abortion Free New Mexico has conclusively confirmed that a current Fellow at the University of New Mexico, Lily Bayak, is willing to work with Southwestern Women's Options patients to complete a late term abortion at UNM Hospital once the fetal injection is administered to kill the pre-born baby.

Abortion Free New Mexico's Tara Shaver, uncovered the collusion via the Ryan Residency Training Program initiated by the University of New Mexico between Planned Parenthood of New Mexico, and Southwestern Women's Options to train UNM residents to perform abortions in the first, second, and even third trimesters in 2011 with her first installment: Exposé: Tax Funded Abortion Training and the Betrayal of True Medicine at UNM.

Fr. Stephen Imbarrato: The Protest Priest with Priests for Life issued the following statement,

"The collaboration between Southwestern Women's Options, UNM Center for Reproductive Health abortion facility, and UNM Hospital shows that UNMHSC headed by Dr Paul Roth is the heart of the New Mexico Abortion Industry.
