

Evidence. Empowerment. Impact.HomeAbout usResearch and programsResourcesNews and events

Sarah Averbach, MD

Fellow in Family Planning

Dr. Averbach is currently earning her MS degree in Clinical Research from the UCSF Department of Epidemiology and Biostatistics. Prior to medical school, Dr. Averbach worked in Nepal after obtaining a public service grant from the Donald A. Strauss foundation. As a medical student, she was a Doris Duke Clinical Research Fellow in Harare, Zimbabwe, where she initiated a study examining cervical HPV infection as a risk factor for HIV acquisition among women.

Areas of interest:

- Contraception for women living with HIV and women at high risk for HIV
- Postpartum contraception

Honors and awards:

- Harvard Medical School award for Humanitarianism in Medicine, 2013
- Harvard Medical School award for Chief Resident as a Teacher,

Make a DonationSubscribe to Newsletter

Learn more about Sarah

Email: AverbachS@obgyn.ucsf.eduSarah's publications on PubMedSarah's UCSF Profile

2013

Education:

- Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, Harvard Medical School, Residency Training in Obstetrics & Gynecology
- University of California, San Francisco School of Medicine, Medical Doctorate
- University of California, San Diego, Bachelors

Publications:

Intranet login

Accessibility Help

UCSF directory

Campus Maps

HIV & STIs

Pregnancy and childbirth

© 2019 The Regents of the University of California