About Sheila Mody, MD

Bio

Sheila Mody, MD, MPH is a family planning specialist with a focus in contraceptive counseling for women with complex medical conditions. Her interests include educating patients on the use of long-acting reversible contraception and early pregnancy management.

Dr. Mody has several contraceptive clinical trials. Her primary research is on exploring if electronic medical records can improve contraceptive utilization among women prescribed teratogenic medications. She is also studying contraceptive utilization among women who undergo renal or liver transplants.

Dr. Mody has published several contraceptive papers in peer reviewed journals and presented at many national meetings. She also has contributed to community education by writing articles for UC San Diego Health's blog and the San Diego Union Tribune.

Prior to her arrival at UC San Diego, Dr. Mody completed her ob/gyn residency at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, a Harvard teaching hospital and her fellowship in family planning at Northwestern University. She earned her medical degree from the University of Michigan and obtained a master's degree in public health from the University of Michigan School of Public Health.

bbbbb I was terrified of the procedure but the care team made it much more approachable. I will absolutely seek their care the next time I have to have this done.

bbbbb Great appointment & very caring staff & provider. Very happy!

3/29/2019 - Verified Patient

bbbbb Overall Dr. Mody was wonderful! I had a great experience with her. The person on the phone did not tell me that the Mirena now can be left inserted for 7 years (instead of 5), so this visit was unnecessary...I was grateful for her flexibility.
