

Christina Jung

Dr. Jung is the first year Family Planning fellow in the OBGYN division. She graduated from Princeton University magna cum laude with a BA in Ecology and Evolutionary Biology with a certificate in Neuroscience and African American Studies. She then moved to Maseru, Lesotho in Southern Africa after graduation to work with the Baylor Pediatric HIV/AIDS Initiative as a community outreach coordinator before returning to NYC for medical school at Albert Einstein in the Bronx.

Dr. Jung has just finished obgyn residency at Mount Sinai Hospital, having done work with post abortion care and postpartum contraception in Monrovia, Liberia with the Clinton Health Access Initiative. She enjoys a good bikram yoga session, pottery making, and of course an excellent plate of tacos. Dr. Jung is excited to start the Masters program in public health, with a particular interest in women's health both domestically and globally.
