Torres, Leah, MD

Dr. Leah Torres, MD, MS has joined us after completing her fellowship at the University of Utah and is looking forward to expanding our OB/GYN services. She was born in Michigan and has lived many different places, including Seville, Spain, where she became fluent in Spanish. Dr. Torres completed medical school in Chicago and OB/GYN residency in Philadelphia. She is a published researcher with special interests in the health and well-being of new mothers as well as preventing pre-term birth.

When she's not caring for pregnant moms or giving health care presentations in the community, Dr. Torres enjoys skiing and has made it a mission to eventually hike all of the great areas Utah has to offer. Her passion for exploring the great outdoors is almost as big as her passion for ensuring her patients have the health care and education they need.
