I will never go back to this place again. I was shocked to see others here speak about his inappropriate remarks. While he may think he's funny, it is completely uncalled for the remarks he makes. Also, trying to push a poison drug Orilissa on me and then yelling at me over the phone telling me my endometriosis is just gonna grow back. Obviously, he knows nothing about how endometriosis works. There is no cure for it. Taking a drug that puts your body into a state of menopause that causes life-altering side effects is not the route I want to take. I found it ironic that while he was yelling at me to take it, a drug rep was in the background shouting "Tell her not to be scared! It's totally fine!" The whole situation makes me so angry. The only positive is that he referred me to another specialist that diagnosed me after not knowing for almost 15 years what I had. Other than that, I have had no one follow up with me from his office after I refused to take Orilissa. Be your own advocate these days and take yourself elsewhere if these doctors show no compassion.

I found Dr. Linder to be mean. He made me feel very uncomfortable. I waited over an hour for a simple blood work. He didn't care to explain things to me rather than throwing words to me that I was confuse about. I am trying to get pregnant and he expect me to know everything as if I been a mother before. He really don't know who I am. Not happy with his service.

Dr Linder was my moms doctor delivered her four kids including me and now is my doctor as I'm going through my pregnancy. He has a sense of humor and makes you feel comfortable and has no problem helping you or answering any questions you have at any time of the day. He by far one of the best doctors i have ever had and my mom says the same.

Dr. Linder is by far the most unprofessional doctor I have met. Three hours after my appointment time when he finally came to read my results and speak to me, I expressed that I was cranky. He threw down his papers and said go home. Then he stormed out of the room. I thought he was kidding, but he never came back. I had to unstrap myself from the fetal heart rate monitor! I left the office with no answers and am 37 weeks pregnant. I have to go see another doctor in the practice tomorrow.

Several years ago this doctor seemed reasonable and professional. Now he makes inappropriate remarks during examinations referring to my "significant other, " in a way that could be construed as suggestive. At the least, it is not professional. AS a result, I have switched to a board certified woman gynecologist. I suggest you do the same.
