

DR. JESSICA RUBINO
MD

Dr. Jessica Rubino is a Board-Certified Family Medicine physician, specializing in abortion care. She works in a private abortion clinic, in addition to her work at Nurx. In addition to being a physician, she's also a wife, dog-mom and fierce advocate for reproductive rights and social justice. Dr. Rubino believes telehealth is critical to getting care to patients when and where it works for them. She loves being more available than a typical in-office physician.

"Providing contraception, HIV prevention, STI testing and control over one's sexual health is the thing I love best about working with Nurx. But I also love our amazing team of providers! We work well together even in the setting of telemedicine and have learned from each other over the years. We truly are experts in sexual health care."
