In a letter written by abortion doctor: Curtis Stover to the Colorado Department of Health, he accused another abortion doctor, James J. Parks of improper disposal of the aborted babies. Stover claimed that Parks who ran the Mayfair Women's Center was placing aborted babies up to 22 weeks gestation in an "outside trash container", because he said that the babies would, "clog up his commode".

Stover also accused Parks of, "assembling an old fashioned meat grinder" and using it to grind the fetuses up on a daily basis.

In his official affidavit, Stover gave this eyewitness testimony, "At the end of the workday, Dr. James J Parks the owner of the Mayfair Women's Center demonstrated to me this method of fetal disposal. We went into a utility room that was used for such things as sterilizing instruments. On the countertop were several white plastic buckets, each containing fetuses from about 15 to 22 weeks size. Dr. Parks reached up to a shelf and brought down several pieces of metal that were parts of a meat grinder and placed them on the counter. Next, he assembled the grinder and clamped it to the countertop. As I looked at the grinder, I realized that it was very old and resembled the same meat grinder my mother used years ago to grind meat into hamburger meat. Dr. Parks then began to empty each bucket into the hopper on top of the grinder, and with his left hand pressed the fetal tissue down into the hopper as he turned the handle with his right hand, grinding the tissue. As he did this the tissue oozed out of the end of the grinder like multiple tubes of pink toothpaste. #### AFFIDAVIT

At the end of a workday in December 1989, Dr. James J. Parks, the owner of Mayfair women's Center of Aurora, Colorado, demonstrated to me his method of fetal tissue disposal. We went into a utility room that was used for such things as sterilizing instruments. On a countertop were several white plastic buckets, each containing fetuses from about 15 weeks to 22 weeks size. Dr. Parks reached up to a shelf and brought down several pieces of metal that were parts of a meat grinder and placed them on the counter. Next, he assembled the grinder and clamped it to the countertop. As I looked at the grinder, I realized that it was very old and resembled the same meat grinder that my mother used years ago to grind up meat into hamburger meat.

Dr. Parks then began to empty each bucket into the hopper on top of the grinder, and with his left hand pressed the fetal tissue down into the hopper as he turned the handle with his right hand, grinding the tissue. As he did this the tissue oozed out of the end of the grinder like multiple tubes of pink toothpaste. Though I have seen many disturbing and unsightly things in my 20 years of medical experience, I was not prepared for this. I became instantly nauseated and vomited into an adjacent sink. Dr. Parks remarked that I had better be able to do the grinding because none of the other clinic staff would do it.

After all the fetuses were ground up into a large bucket, he dumped the contents into the sink and washed it down the sink with water. Finally, he disassembled the grinder, rinsed it off, and placed it back on the shelf.

At Mayfair Women's Center, this entire procedure was called "emptying the buckets."

Researchers at United States Holocaust Memorial Museum have just released documentation that astounds even the most informed scholars steeped in the previously known statistics of German atrocities. Here is some of what has now been conclusively discovered:

Rabbi Benjamin Blech writes, "There were more than 42,500 Nazi ghettos and camps throughout Europe from 1933 to 1945.

There were 30,000 slave labor camps; 1,150 Jewish ghettos; 980 concentration camps; 1000 prisoner of war camps; 500 brothels filled with sex slaves; and thousands of other camps used for euthanizing the elderly and infirm, performing forced abortions, "Germanizing" prisoners or transporting victims to killing centers.

The best estimate using current information available is 15 to 20 million people who died or were imprisoned in sites controlled by the Germans throughout the European continent.

Simply put, in the words of Hartmut Berghoff, Director of the German Historical Institute in Washington, "The numbers are so much higher than what we originally thought; we knew before how horrible life in the camps and ghettos was, but the actual numbers are unbelievable."

And what makes this revelation so important is that it forces us to acknowledge a crucial truth about the Holocaust that many people have tried to ignore or to minimize – a truth that has profound contemporary significance: The unspeakable crime of the 20th century, more than the triumph of evil, was the sin of the "innocent" bystander."

According to the pro-life group, Life Dynamics, "The euphemisms used by Nazis and abortion advocates are eerily similar. Death camps were called "relocation centers" in Nazi Germany and Nazi Occupied Europe. Death camps are called "reproductive health centers" in modern America. The Jews were described as a "parasitic race" by Hitler, while the unwanted child is described "a mere parasite" by Planned Parenthood. The end result then was "termination" of the Jews and the end result now is "termination of pregnancy."

According to a website which tracks abortion clinics, AbortionDocs.com, there are 619 abortion surgical centers in the United States, 167 abortion pill clinics, and at least 789 known abortionists willing to kill preborn persons in the womb.

As of October 2013, the largest chain of abortion providers Planned Parenthood boasts that they have over 750 locations across the United States:

The screenshot shows the Planned Parenthood website header with the logo and tagline "Care. No matter what." Below the header is a navigation bar with "HEALTH INFO & SERVICES", "GET INVOLVED", and "ABOUT US". The main content area features a green banner with the text "FIND A HEALTH CENTER" and "More than 750 health centers around the country". Below this is a search form with fields for "Zip Code" and "State", and a "GO" button. A list of services is provided, including Abortion, Birth Control, Emergency Contraception (Morning After Pill), General Health Care, HIV Testing, LGBT Services, Men's Health Care, Pregnancy Testing & Services, STD Testing, Treatment & Vaccines, and Women's Health Care. At the bottom of the search section, it says "Search for your nearest Planned Parenthood health center to find out about the services it offers."

The railroad platform at Treblinka, where the Nazi holocaust victims were singled out for death, had flower beds that gave the area a "a neat and cheery look." Today, abortion clinics use plants and bold colors to create a "cheerful and anxiety-free environment."

An inmate orchestra provided tangos, jazz and waltzes as the victims were dispatched to the "shower rooms" of Auschwitz. Soothing music is piped into most waiting rooms and "procedure rooms" of abortion clinics.

According to an Auschwitz survivor, 17,280 corpses were disposed of "per twenty four hour shift. And the ovens, with murderous efficiency, functioned day and night." According to a former abortionist, "From eight in the morning until midnight, seven days a week, doctors working in ten operating rooms performed vacuum aspirations on an endless parade of pregnant wombs." (Vacuum aspiration is a type of abortion.)

An Auschwitz gassing technician stated that, "I had no feelings carrying out these things." One abortionist stated that, "I never had any psychological adverse reaction, except for an occasional feeling that one was destroying life."

In 1998, pro-lifers uncovered a container which housed thousands of aborted children.

This "lab" is a depot for Family Planning Associates, California's largest abortion mill chain. Every container holds a baby who was murdered by abortion. The size of the container is proportional to the age of the child. The larger containers hold 2nd trimester babies. Each of these children deserved to live.

The following pictures were taken 1/25/98 and 2/1/98 at:

"One of the boxes fell out of the container, spilling its contents on the ground. I stared at a large object but couldn't tell what it was. I called my boss to come over and take a look. All of a sudden we realized with great horror that it was a decapitated body of a baby. Other workers started vomitting." ` Hank Stolk, employee of Martin Container Corporation, Los Angeles, Ca. ### WEISBERG COLLECTING AND STORING THE DEAD

Malvin Weisberg owned a business called M.A.L. which was collecting dead fetal bodies from abortionists mainly in Los Angeles but also from the far corners of the USA. He hired a pathologist to examine the bodies and send lab reports back to the abortionists. Medi-Cal would pay for most of his business. Faced with the costly problem of how to dispose of the ever-accumulating bodies, Weisberg decided to rent a huge land/sea metal storage container, put it in the backyard of his posh Woodland Hills home, and quietly stored the carnage. When he failed to pay his rent for the container, it was repossessed. As workers tried to move the 20 foot steel box which was filled from front to back, the immense weight broke their winch.

FEBRUARY 6, 1982 BODIES DISCOVERED

As workers opened the doors to the steel box now parked in the container yard, they were overwhelmed with the stench of decaying human flesh. When they looked inside, they saw bodies strewn among open boxes and plastic containers. One worker described the scene as a "war zone, and reported watching a headless body tumble forward. Los Angeles County Health Department officials were called to the scene and began the process of transferring bodies to the coroner's office.

MARCH 16, 1982 AUTOPSIES 16,433 BODY COUNT

Dr. Eva Hauser, assisted by Dr. Joseph Wood, weighed and measured at least 43 of larger baby bodies. Some had been dead for more than two years. Some were at least 30 weeks old. All were severely mutilated through poisoning or dismemberment with surgical knives. The putrid smell, the constant buzz of flies, and the horrifying sight of mangled infant bodies made the autopsy procedure difficult for the doctors.

Many of the bodies still had labels which identified the abortionists. The names of infamous abortionists such as Dr. Gordon Goei and Dr. Scott Ricke, both of Inglewood Women's Hospital, were seen most frequently. (Goei was taken to court by the Board of Medical Quality Assurance after causing gross injuries to mothers at Cedars Sinai Hospital and Ricke was prosecuted for having sex with a patient).

17,000 fetuses found in cargo container

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Reagan supports holding a memorial service for as many as 17,000 discarded fetuses recovered from the residence of man who owned a medical laboratory, an anti-abortion spokeswoman said Wednesday.

No exact count has been made of the fetuses, which were removed in February from the Woodland Hills residence of Malvin Weisberg, whose laboratory had gone out of business. Investigators believe the total far exceeds the 2,000 fetuses recently estimated to be stored inside a large cargo container.

California Pro Life Medical Association member Jeannette Dreisbach of Palm Springs, wife of the group's secretary, Dr. Philip Dreisbach, said the three-paragraph letter did not specify whether Reagan would participate in any memorial services. No date has been set.

Nikola Mikulicich, who heads the district attorney's investigation into whether any laws were violated in aborting or disposing of the fetuses, said that his staff is checking and cataloguing each plastic container.

Weisberg's lab, Medical Analytic Laboratories, Inc., which received aborted fetuses from California and other states, conducted required tests on the embryos to determine their size, weight and health, said Al Albergate, spokesman for the district attorney's office.

"There may be as many as 17,000 (fetuses)," Albergate said "Most of them are very small."

The coroner's department conducted autopsies on 42 fetuses that appeared to be older than 20 weeks, the limit under California law for an abortion, Albergate said. "They said between five and seven were possibly viable (outside the mother's womb)."

Although Weisberg is not under investigation for performing abortions, Albergate said there is a possibility that criminal charges could be lodged against some physicians.

The medical lab run by Weisberg was closed last year, but he was keeping most of the fetuses in a cargo container he had arranged to buy from the Martin Container Co.

The company repossessed the container on Feb. 2 after it failed to receive payments, the company's president said. When company employees noticed a foul smell coming from the container, they discovered the fetuses these babies, many of them decapitated by the abortion, and some of them weighing a couple of pounds, were put in plastic containers and ultimately stored in a large waste container that he was renting. In 1982, Weisburg failed to make proper payments on the container, and therefore it was repossessed by the company.

That's when workers discovered what was in it — the bodies of aborted babies, totaling 16,433. The bodies were taken into the custody of Los Angeles County.

According to Fr. Frank Pavone at Priests for Life, "This made news and touched off a firestorm about what should be done with the babies. Pro-life people and public officials got together to call for the release of the bodies for proper burial. Meanwhile, pro-abortion groups, including the ACLU, went to court to block any religious service, or even burial, for these babies. They claimed that the 'separation of church and state' prohibited the state from facilitating a religious service. The court agreed. However, the pro-abortion groups wanted more, namely, to not allow a burial at all. They wanted the bodies cremated and thrown away as medical waste. And forgotten. With this, however, the court did not agree. Even the Supreme Court was petitioned in the matter, and in the end, after a three year battle, the babies were buried on October 6, 1985. Even President Ronald Reagan got involved, and wrote a eulogy that was read at the service, calling for an end to abortion.

"For many years, this mass grave had no marker or headstone, just as the children have no names. But now there is a stone, and we are going to name the babies. Supporters of abortion do not want people to see mass graves in our midst. It's too disturbing a reminder of the humanity of the victims of abortion. When people forget, the abortion supporters win; when people remember, we win. That is why we need to keep telling the stories of these graves, and visiting them. And that is why we continue to demand that the bodies of the babies killed by abortionist Kermit Gosnell in Philadelphia be released so that we can bury them.

"Ironically, the 16,433 aborted children in Los Angeles could not be buried at the nearby Catholic cemetery; but who is buried there? The late term abortionist James McMahon. God help us."

Tell me how the images of aborted children differ from images of murdered Jews from Hitler's Nazi Regime?

In May of 2013, abortionist Kermit Gosnell was found guilty of murdering three babies born alive in an abortion clinic. He was acquitted in the fourth baby's death, and found guilty of involuntary manslaughter in the overdose death of an adult patient.

KERMIT GOSNELL

Dr. Kermit Gosnell, 72, was convicted of first-degree murder of three babies who authorities say were delivered alive and then killed with scissors at his grimy legal abortion clinic.

"The standard practice here was to slay babies. That's what they did," Assistant District Attorney Joanne Pescatore told jurors, who echoed a 2011 grand jury report in calling the clinic "a house of horrors." Staff went along with the routine because they were nearly as desperate as the women, she said. The two other "doctors" on staff were allegedly medical school doctors without licenses. The woman giving anesthesia was a sixth-grade dropout who could hardly read or write, Pescatore said. And one of the employees who advanced from the reception area to the operating room was a 15-year-old high school student.

"They looked just like regular babies," Employee Ashley Baldwin said. Baldwin said one baby was so big that Gosnell joked that "this baby is going to walk me home."

The Philadelphia medical examiner analyzed the remains of 45 fetuses seized from the clinic. Of these, 16 were first-trimester; 25 were second-trimester, ranging from 12 to 21 weeks; 2 were 22 weeks; 1 was 26 weeks; and 1 was 28 weeks.

Baby Boy A was aborted by Gosnell at 32 weeks, maybe later. After killing him, Gosnell cruelly joked, "This baby is big enough to walk around with me or walk me to the bus stop."

According to the Grand Jury Report, "He also killed live, viable, moving, breathing, crying babies. He killed them by cutting their spinal cords after their mothers had delivered them after receiving excessive amounts of medication designed to induce active labor. This report documents multiple murders of viable babies. The evidence makes a compelling case that many others were also murdered. It was Gosnell's standard business practice, to slay viable babies."

LIKE THE NAZI PRISON GUARDS, Gosnell's employees said they only did as they were told:

Today, abortion is justified by claiming the killing of babies is "safe and legal." Dr. Michael Jackson, an abortionist and clinic owner said, "I just go by what the courts say. I only do what's legal."

These were the same justifications used by doctors who participated in the massacre of millions at Auschwitz. Zyklon-B, the poison gas used to kill the Jews, was seen as helping to alleviate suffering and permit "humane killing".

At Nuremberg, numerous Nazi doctors and killers said they were innocent because they had broken no law. "The jurists in Berlin told us this was a legal matter," testified Walter Schmidt, "quite legal." According to an expert on Auschwitz, "The Nazis committed no crime at Auschwitz since no law or political order protected those who were condemned."

In fact, the legality itself helped to distance the killers from the killing – if it was legally ordered or at least permitted, then the killing was someone else's fault. At the trial held for nurses who injected infants and children with lethal substances, the heart of their defense was that the killing was carried out in conformity of the existing laws. The defense claimed that "these people were only carrying out the laws of the land" and "the accused did not act wrongly because they were covered by law."

- Lynda Williams, 44, of Wilmington, said Gosnell taught her how to flip the body of the baby over and snip its neck with a pair of scissors to ensure "fetal demise." Williams also testified that she followed Gosnell's orders one time, when Gosnell was away either running, swimming or working at a clinic in Delaware, and took a baby that was delivered in a toilet and snipped its neck. "It jumped, the arm," she said, showing the jury by raising her arm. Williams told investigators she only snipped a neck the one time, "because it gave me the creeps." "I only do what I'm told to do," she told the jury. "What I was told to do was snip their neck."

- Lynda Williams also responded the same way when asked about seeing Gosnell cut the necks of babies who were delivered before abortion procedures, admitting after reviewing earlier statements that she had seen Gosnell do this at least 30 times. Williams said she asked Gosnell about the baby that moved, and said Gosnell told her it was just an "involuntary response" and a "last breath" because it was "already dead" due to drugs that had been administered earlier. "I never knew it was murder," Williams told investigators and repeated to the jury.

guilty. After the investigation, Elizabeth Hampton said that Gosnell ordered the employees to clean and scrub the clinic. The first floor was repainted. When asked why he did so, Hampton replied "If he said to do something, we did it. We didn't question him."

• ASHLEY BALDWIN: "They looked just like regular babies," Baldwin said. Baldwin said one baby was so big that Gosnell joked that "this baby is going to walk me home." She said the joke bothered her and she talked to her mother about it. Baldwin's mother, however, was also a Gosnell employee. Tina Baldwin had worked there since 2001. Ashley Baldwin said she assisted Gosnell in abortions, applying pressure to the mother's abdomen, handing the doctor instruments and equipment. She said she also saw Gosnell use scissors to "snip" the neck of newborns who were moving after the procedure. Although she sometimes felt uneasy about what she saw, Baldwin said, Gosnell always had an explanation: "He told me that's how it was supposed to go."

During the trial, an Associated Press reporter described Gosnell as an "elegant man . . . who smiled softly." How could he smile? How could he be serene at his piano? How could he eat in the midst of squalor and death? How could he live with himself?

Within days if the Gosnell story breaking open, the pro-life group Life Dynamics located in Denton, Texas, released an interview with three former abortion clinic workers which prove the Pennsylvania abortion doctor Kermit Gosnell, recently convicted of murder, is not an anomaly.

The interview was conducted on May 3, 2013 with clinic employees located in a different state.

The group obtained audio and video recordings of Planned Parenthood administrators and abortionists casually agreeing to sell freshly-extracted parts from their abortions, and will be releasing the horrific admissions over the next few weeks.

CMP has uploaded several documents they obtained in their investigation, some containing orders of the aborted babies to Stem Express.

In a letter written by abortion doctor: Curtis Stover to the Colorado Department of Health, he accused another abortion doctor, James J. Parks of improper disposal of the aborted babies. Stover claimed that Parks who ran the Mayfair Women's Center was placing aborted babies up to 22 weeks gestation in an "outside trash container", because he said that the babies would, "clog up his commode". Stover also accused Parks of, "assembling an old fashioned meat grinder" and using it to grind the fetuses up on a daily basis. In his official affidavit, Stover gave this eyewitness testimony, "At the end of the workday, Dr. James J Parks the owner of the Mayfair Women's Center demonstrated to me this method of fetal disposal. We went into a utility room that was used for such things as sterilizing instruments. On the countertop were several white plastic buckets, each containing fetuses from about 15 to 22 weeks size. Dr. Parks reached up to a shelf and brought down several pieces of metal that were parts of a meat grinder and placed them on the counter. Next, he assembled the grinder and clamped it to the countertop. As I looked at the grinder, I realized that it was very old and resembled the same meat grinder my mother used years ago to grind meat into hamburger meat. Dr. Parks then began to empty each bucket into the hopper on top of the grinder, and with his left hand pressed the fetal tissue down into the hopper as he turned the handle with his right hand, grinding the tissue. As he did this the tissue oozed out of the end of the grinder like multiple tubes of pink toothpaste. Though I have seen many disturbing and unsightly things in my 20 years of medical experience, I was not prepared for this. I became instantly nauseated and vomited. All the fetuses were ground into a large bucket, he dumped the contents into the sink and washed it down the sink with water."

In November of 1989, a Dr. James J. Parks of Denver, was mentioned in a New York Times article entitled More U.S. Curbs Urged in the Use Of Fetal Tissue. The Times said he supplied fetal tissue free to researchers at the University of Colorado.

AFFIDAVIT

At the end of a workday in December 1989, Dr. James J. Parks, the owner of Mayfair women's Center of Aurora, Colorado, demonstrated to me his method of fetal tissue disposal. We went into a utility room that was used for such things as sterilizing instruments. On a countertop were several white plastic buckets, each containing fetuses from about 15 weeks to 22 weeks size. Dr. Parks reached up to a shelf and brought down several pieces of metal that were parts of a meat grinder and placed them on the counter. Next, he assembled the grinder and clamped it to the countertop. As I looked at the grinder, I realized that it was very old and resembled the same meat grinder that my mother used years ago to grind up meat into hamburger meat.

Dr. Parks then began to empty each bucket into the hopper on top of the grinder, and with his left hand pressed the fetal tissue down into the hopper as he turned the handle with his right hand, grinding the tissue. As he did this the tissue oozed out of the end of the grinder like multiple tubes of pink toothpaste. Though I have seen many disturbing and unsightly things in my 20 years of medical experience, I was not prepared for this. I became instantly nauseated and vomited into an adjacent sink. Dr. Parks remarked that I had better be able to do the grinding because none of the other clinic staff would do it.

After all the fetuses were ground up into a large bucket, he dumped the contents into the sink and washed it down the sink with water. Finally, he disassembled the grinder, rinsed it off, and placed it back on the shelf.

At Mayfair Women's Center, this entire procedure was called "emptying the buckets."

Rabbi Benjamin Blech continued, "For years our efforts to understand the Holocaust focused on the perpetrators. We looked for explanations for the madness of Mengele, the obsessive hatred of Hitler, the impassive cruelty of Eichmann. We sought answers to how it was possible for the criminal elements, the sadists and the mentally unbalanced to achieve the kind of power that made the mass killings feasible.

That was because we had no idea of the real extent of the horror. With more than 42,000 ghettos and concentration camps scattered throughout the length and breadth of a supposedly civilized continent, there's no longer any way to avoid the obvious conclusion. The cultured, the educated, the enlightened, the liberal, the refined, the sophisticated, the urbane – all of them share in the shame of a world that lost its moral compass and willingly acceded to the victory of evil.

"We had no idea what was happening" needs to be clearly identified as "the great lie" of the years of Nazi power. The harsh truth is that almost everyone had to know. The numbers negate the possibility for collective ignorance. And still the killings did not stop, the torture did not cease, the concentration camps were not closed, the crematoria continued their barbaric task.

The "decent" people were somehow able to rationalize their silence.

Just last year Mary Fulbrook, a distinguished scholar of German history, in "A Small Town Near Auschwitz" wrote a richly and painfully detailed examination of those Germans who, after the war, successfully cast themselves in the role of innocent bystanders.

"These people have almost entirely escaped the familiar net of 'perpetrators, victims and bystanders'; yet they were functionally crucial to the eventual possibility of implementing policies of mass murder. They may not have intended or wanted to contribute to this outcome; but, without their attitudes, mentalities, and actions, it would have been virtually impossible for murder on this scale to have taken place in the way that it did. The concepts of perpetrator and bystander need to be amended, expanded, rendered more complex, as our attention and focus shifts to those involved in upholding an ultimately murderous system."

Mary Fulbrook singled out for censure those who lived near Auschwitz. But that was before we learned that Auschwitz was replicated many thousands of times over throughout the continent in ways that could not have gone unnoticed by major parts of the populace. Millions of people were witnesses to small towns like Auschwitz in their own backyards.

And so Elie Wiesel of course was right. The insight that most powerfully needs to be grasped when we reflect upon the Holocaust's message must be that, "The opposite of love is not hate, it's indifference. The opposite of art is not ugliness, it's indifference. The opposite of faith is not heresy, it's indifference. And the opposite of life is not death, it's indifference."

That remains our greatest challenge today. If we dare to hope for the survival of civilization we had better pray that the pessimists are wrong when they claim that the only thing we learn from history is that mankind never learns from history."

CHURCH'S ROLE?

Even When We Don't

In Nazi Germany, Christians would sometimes sing hymns to drown out the sounds of passing trains taking people to the gas chambers. If the screams coming from the boxcars grew louder, the congregation would simply sing a little louder.

In modern America, that sorry history is repeating itself. Once again, the church is cowering in the shadows and looking the other way as millions are being slaughtered. Every Sunday, people who claim to be Christians walk into churches built on ground that is soaked in the blood of children, and with ice-cold indifference try to sing loud enough to fool God.

"... faith by itself, if it is not accompanied by action, is dead."

James 2:17

The Facts:

EVERY DAY about 3000 first-trimester American babies, exactly like the one shown above, are killed by legalized abortion.

VIRTUALLY NONE of these abortions are performed on women who became pregnant through rape or incest.

VIRTUALLY NONE of these abortions are performed because the babies are unhealthy or handicapped.

VIRTUALLY NONE of these abortions are performed because the pregnancies pose a threat to the lives or health of the mothers.

After a speech, pro-life activist Penny Lea was approached by an old man. Weeping, he told her the following story:

"I lived in Germany during the Nazi holocaust. I considered myself a Christian. I attended church since I was a small boy. We had heard the stories of what was happening to the Jews, but like most people today in this country, we tried to distance ourselves from the reality of what was really taking place. What could anyone do to stop it?"

A railroad track ran behind our small church, and each Sunday morning we would hear the whistle from a distance and then the clacking of the wheels moving over the track. We became disturbed when one Sunday we noticed cries coming from the train as it passed by. We grimly realized that the train was carrying Jews. They were like cattle in those cars!

Week after week that train whistle would blow. We would dread to hear the sound of those old wheels because we knew that the Jews would begin to cry out to us as they passed our church. It was so terribly disturbing! We could do nothing to help these poor miserable people, yet their screams tormented us. We knew exactly at what time that whistle would blow, and we decided the only way to keep from being so disturbed by the cries was to start singing our hymns. By the time that train came rumbling past the church yard, we were singing at the top of our voices. If some of the screams reached our ears, we'd just sing a little louder until we could hear them no more. Years have passed and no one talks about it much anymore, but I still hear that train whistle in my sleep. I can still hear them crying out for help. God forgive all of us who called ourselves Christians, yet did nothing to intervene.

"Their screams tormented us . . . If some of their screams reached our ears we'd just sing a little louder."

Now, so many years later, I see it happening all over again in America. God forgive you as Americans for you have blocked out the screams of millions of your own children. The holocaust is here. The response is the same as it was in my country – SILENCE!" ( H/T Repent America)
