The Delaware Board of Medical Licensure and Discipline suspended the medical license of a doctor who recently had his license to practice suspended in Maryland for performing an abortion that injured an 18-year-old woman, Delaware officials said Friday.

Dr. George Shepard Jr.'s license in Delaware was suspended because he engaged in activities that "present a clear and present danger to the public health," according to a release from the Delaware State Department.

Shepard, 88, had his license suspended in Maryland last month. That triggered a notification to Delaware authorities, and the process to suspend Shepard's license here began, state department spokesman Christopher Portante said.
