Hes amazing. I am so glad my friend recommended him to me. He is always so pleasant and helpful. I've never been to another doctor that has made me feel so comfortable. So sad I met him the same year hes retiring. Hes an angel.

Dr. Agnew just delivered my second child! His office is always warm and welcoming and the wait times are very minimal. I'm glad he was able to deliver both my children and I highly recommend him!

I switched doctors to Dr. Agnew and so far I've been extremely pleased with my decision. He's to the point but also very experienced. He's more personable than my previous doctor and I feel confident knowing he'll be delivering my baby in about a month.

So far I have had a great experience with Dr. Agnew , this is my first pregnancy so I'm always worried the staff up front is helpful and deals with me needing notes for work when I have appointments ... Dr Agnew has always made me feel comfortable with running extra tests to make sure I'm okay overall I would recommend him to anyone office does have a little wait on Friday appointments it's Friday it's busy Monday

Personally was not a fan of Dr. Agnew or his staff. Unfriendly, everything seems to be an inconvenience to them. Went in for a check-up and some concerns, after a 45 minute wait to see the Dr. Agnew, the exam lasted a whole 5 minutes and all he told me was to try home remedies and walked out of the exam room. There was no follow-up, no blood work/blood pressure, weight check, nothing. Here we are 4 months later and I'm receiving a bill from their office stating I owe over $500 because I wasn't effective with their office through my insurance- Isn't that something you should have checked when I gave them my insurance information PRIOR to my visit?

Words can't express how GRATEFUL I am to have found Dr. Agnu. I am now on my third pregnancy, which has been far harder than my previous pregnancies. He has not only guided me with confidence with the right directions, with particular issues I have ran into, but also his OUTSTANDING staff has really gone above and beyond for me. I feel so safe with putting my family in his hands, LITERALLY. Even my recent trips to the E.R, I have spoken to onsite staff who rave about his extreme expertise and how much knowledge this one individual has over many Doctors they have seen in their time! This is a big deal when trying to find the perfect OBGYN when searching online (trust me, I did all the research), especially when you can't visit them all to make a decision. DR AGNU IS THE BEST, and no other words can explain his work ethics. Thank you Dr. Agnu for continuing to be the best at what you do, and truly caring for your patients, and not just making us feel like a number. And to the Staff, all of you ladies have done a fantastic job and make the process that much more seamless. Thank you, Thank you, Thank you

1. Waited over an hour for appt
2. Blood pressure and weight were not completed. Had to ask
3. Assistants were watching TV
4. Dr walked out of the office mid question

It's time for me to move on and I also believe it's time for the Dr to retire or bring in a more competent staff and doctor. Used to be a nice and caring. Now seems as if they don't care and are poorly going through the motions. I will be promptly finding a new OB. I don't feel confident my baby, or myself will be provided with adequate health care.

6/12/18...Dr. Agnew was my doctor most of my life, and ALL the time I lived in Orange county. He delivered my daughter in her DUE DATE. (How often does that happen?!) He was even my daughter's ob/gyn when she was 15 or 16. I was always very comfortable there! Catherine, his wife, always LOVED her, too! I remember stories she used to tell me when she used to be one of Dean Martin's Golddiggers (dancer). I was envious. I moved to Phoenix several years ago, and we bought a home here. I miss the California coast. It's very hot here. Dr. Agnew always gives you his best! I will NEVER forget him. I look forward to connecting with him when I return to California. He's an Angel. Thank YOU, Dr. Agnew, and Catherine, for all the great years. It's VERY hard to find an ob/gun you TRULY feel comfortable with.

I've not experienced the extended wait times others have complained about. Of course, this is a doctor office and you're going to have short wait times and long wait times as with any other Dr. office....My experience for the past few years has been great. everyone who works here is great, in my opinion

Dr. Agnew and the office staff are great! He was one of the very few doctors I could find that had great ratings and accepted Medi-cal during my pregnancy. He has great bedside manner, is very kind, and as someone who was having a healthy low-risk pregnancy, my prenatal appointments were quick and to the point. The reason for the 4-star rating was due to the difficulty of getting ahold of a staff member when I called the office - many times, i had to call at least 3 times before finally getting in touch with someone instead of the answering machine (which hangs up on you sometimes) despite calling during normal office hours.

(Also be mindful that to park at the medical building, you have to pay $2 each visit and the office does not provide parking vouchers.)

Dr. Agnew really should consider retiring. He once treated my mother forty years ago and has done a lot of good for women's rights in his very long career, but I fear his old age is directly related to the sharp decline in his quality of care. My own experience with him has been pretty scary (gave me no information regarding the surgery he performed, zero attention given during hospital discharge, a dozen post op surgical wounds unexplainable even by another gyno, lateness, aloof and uncaring attitude, etc).

He makes you wait up to an hour only to be seen for a few moments before retreating back to his office, will forget why you came and what exams he is supposed to do on you that day, has impossibility short, sporadic office hours, and has no messaging service if the phones are turned off, which seems to be 50% of the time they're supposed to be open.

Between his forgetfulness, short attention span, nonexistent office hours, and highly questionable bedside manner, I urge you to look elsewhere.

Excellent doctor. He is my primary care doctor, my gynecologist and was my obstetrician. He delivered both of my kids. His office is a family affair. I love it! I have been going to him for almost 20 years. I will continue until he decides to retire which hopefully is not soon!

Prenatal care- 3 stars
He was not very thorough and I didn't find out until I was in L&D that I had had high blood pressure almost my entire pregnancy. I didn't get my glucose test scheduled until almost 33 weeks and then when I had failed it no one called to tell me my results, so I figured I was fine. By the time I had scheduled my second test, I had went into labor and obviously never took the second test. He was pretty funny and very nice and I really did like his office staff! They always made me feel welcome and comfortable.

Delivery-5+ stars!!!!
Now I know why he is a highly sought after doctor!!! I went into labor at 35 weeks, 6 days and he made me feel so comfortable and calm. I ended up having to have an assisted birth with the vacuum and my son was born completely perfect and healthy and I can't thank doctor Agnew enough!!

So although my prenatal care could've been a little better, maybe he just figured I was young and healthy and not to worry? I don't know. I definitely had a great delivery and will be going back to him for any other pregnancies down the line if he is still practicing.

Dr. Agnew deserves a 10 star rating. He was the on call doctor that performed my emergency cesarean and I couldn't be happier! I have complete feeling in my lower abdomen with minimal nerve damage. My son and myself are healthy. I am so happy with my surgical procedure that I most likely will switch OB's during my next pregnancy. His skill set is flawless!

The most amazing doctor with the most amazing staff. For all the posts here that are negative, I must say this: no, he's not perfect but he is by far the best choice you can make if you have CalOptima. It's nearly impossible to find an experienced, white doctor who doesn't speak with a foreign accent, in Newport Beach, which also allowed me to have my baby at Hoag Hospital. I felt like I finally had hit the jackpot when I found him after searching for years for a practice like his. He is really a very caring person and wonderful doctor with an office staff that is on the ball 99.9% of the time.

I understand both sides of these reviews... What I LOVE about Dr. Agnew is that he is NOT an alarmist! I think he was and is very knowledgeable and skilled physician. However, I can see why some rate him very low... They are probably from the "informed" generation where they are given every possible outcome of every symptom... I personally love him, but I am a boomer!

Dr. Agnew is amazing!
I started going to him when I was around 4 months pregnant with my little girl, he's quick at every appointment and gets right to the point which is amazing when you're pregnant especially because I just wanted to go home and sleep! His daughters are awesome and are so sweet, and his wife is an absolute doll! Hopefully he is still practicing when it's time for me to have baby #2 even though he got to me a little late while I was in labor he got there just in time, literally like two minutes before my daughter came out and he was so calm and collected. My little girl, came out within 15 minutes of pushing..even the nurses thought it was going to take a lot longer, so it's justified. I still go to him after having my daughter and he's amazing with all the follow ups and getting things taken care of, love that the whole family works here and there are so genuine!
Thank you Agnew family!

Dr. Agnew has been wonderful for me. He will always answer any questions I have. He did my complete hysterectomy and the scar almost is invisible. I wish he could of delivered my children with him but at the time he didn't accept my ins. First my Aunt and Grandmother saw him then me and now my sisters. I don't understand some of the negative reviews. He is a bit shy but, when asked he will address any question. I have had numerous OB's and he is by far the best. Always making sure you are comfortable. He doesn't believe in letting you suffer. If needed on weekends he will call you back right away. Our family loves him.
