In the midst of a pandemic when we should be limiting travel, Texas's abortion ban would result in "the average (median) one-way driving distance to an abortion clinic...[to] increase from 12 miles to 243 miles (or 1,925% longer)"

This is not the Onion. This is the Texas we live in. Texans are experiencing pain and suffering at the hands of our so-called state "leaders" like Governor Abbott who would rather you go to church than be able to access an abortion (which is ESSENTIAL HEALTHCARE) during a pandemic.
