Our Family Planning Team

Our expert gynecologists, anesthesiologists, nurses, social workers and other supportive staff work together as a team to provide patients with the best clinical care, while also providing emotional support during what is often a challenging time.

In addition to our world-class Brigham and Women's Hospital/Harvard Medical School faculty, our team includes family planning fellows and Brigham and Women's Hospital/Massachusetts General Hospital residents in Obstetrics and Gynecology. We impress upon these future leaders the importance of access to safe family planning services to protect women's health and lives and to empower women locally and globally.
