

NYC abortion doctor accused of manslaughter after patient dies

OCTOBER 11, 2016 / 3:52 PM / AP

NEW YORK - A New York City physician is accused of causing the death of a patient in a botched abortion.

Queens District Attorney Richard A. Brown said Tuesday that Dr. Robert Rho has been indicted on a manslaughter charge.

Authorities allege the patient died in July after a botched abortion procedure.

Trending News

- Coronavirus updates: World sees growing toll amid warnings of second wave
- CDC director fears 2nd wave of coronavirus next flu season
- Barr compares shutdowns to "house arrest," threatens legal action
- Atlanta mayor says reopening of state will be "deadly"

They say she was allowed to leave the health facility even though she had been bleeding profusely, collapsed and appeared disoriented.

She died that night at a hospital.

There was no immediate information on an attorney who could comment on Rho's behalf. He lives in Lake Success.

First published on October 11, 2016 / 3:52 PM

© 2016 The Associated Press. All Rights Reserved. This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten, or redistributed.

Sign up for Breaking News Alerts

Be in the know. Get the latest breaking news delivered straight to your inbox.

See All Newsletters >

Copyright © 2020 CBS Interactive Inc. All rights reserved.

Privacy Policy
CA Privacy/Info We Collect
CA Do Not Sell My Info
Ad Choice
Terms of Use

Mobile User Agreement

About

Advertise

Closed Captioning

CBS News Store

Site Map

Contact Us

Help