Fellowship

The Fellowship in Family Planning at Stanford University maximizes the resources of one of the world's premier universities. The program blends clinical training, with public health education, and offers opportunities for experience in international settings, policymaking, advocacy and clinical or basic science research. In addition to focused training in abortion and family planning, fellows are also members of the Gynecology Service at Stanford and serve as Attending Physicians in The Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology. The concomitant existence of a Ryan Training Program offers the fellow potential for a significant teaching and supervisory role between Family Planning Fellows and Ob/Gyn Residents.
